About the Show

This show inspires and empowers people to take charge of their own health, and their animals' health, by teaching listeners that all health conditions respond to the power of diet, nutrition, natural medicines, lifestyle and emotional fitness. Marijke recognizes that each person and each animal is unique with very individual requirements and that we heal the person or animal - rather than the disease - by identifying the true and underlying cause of the health condition.

This show is highly informative providing the listener with the straight facts on the relationship between nutrition and disease, practical healing techniques and common sense health advice. Listeners will learn about body function, nutrition, fats, proteins, carbohydrates, diets, cleanses, deficiencies, food allergies and intolerances, chronic disease, immunity and emotional influences. This is a show about health programs and strategies that really work - for people and their pets.

Marijke's passion is to heal. She is a caring, compassionate and trusted healer who shares a vast amount of knowledge acquired from over two decades of experience with thousands of success cases in healing people and animals with a variety of health problems. Marijke gives people confidence to overcome their health challenges by validating that nutritional therapy, natural medicine and energy healing is the new mainstream and is highly effective for all health conditions. Join Marijke and start your journey to spectacular health today!
